CITY HOSPITAL.

SEVERAL RESIGNATIONS TAKE PLACE YESTERDAY.

There Were Several Surprises at the Annual Election of the Sedalia Hospital Society.

The ladies having in charge the work of raising funds for the erection of a charity hospital in Sedalia, met at the Commercial club rooms yesterday afternoon for the annual election of officers.

During the meeting it was stated that the advisory board had under consideration the purchase of the Ingram property on East Thirteenth street, to be used as a hospital. The property would cost something like $5,000 and is most admirably adapted, as far as situation is concerned, for the purpose. The hospital fund is now a little over $2,000. Accordingly, the purchase of the property would compel the society to assume an incumbrance of $3,000 and over, when insurance, repairs and taxes are considered. To a number of the ladies, the assumption of such a large debt with their present limited powers of discharging it seemed utterly out of the question and they emphasized their opinion by resigning. The resignations are as follows: Mrs. I. Frensdorf, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. H. Wright, recording secretary; Mrs. Kate Hawkins, treasurer; Mrs. Dr. Wilson Carr, 1st vice-president, and Mrs. Chas. Morehead, financial secretary.

All of these ladies are enthusiastic in the charity work and have been among its foremost leaders in the past, but they feel that the purchase of so much property is more than they can afford to undertake, and accordingly resigned.

After the resignation, an election was held, the official register for the next year standing as follows, through his every case the officers have not accepted: Mrs. Isaac Wolf, re-elected president; Mrs. G. B. Simonds, first vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Elder, second vice-president; Mrs. Mary Robbins, third vice-president; Mrs. W. F. Hansberger, financial secretary; Mrs. D. H. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. T. P. McCluney, recording secretary. Managing board—Mrs. L. N. Guild, chairman; Mesdames Kate Hawkins, N. Babcock, Leslie Merry, W. B. Scales, Fred Meyer, Chas. McLaughlin, O. A. Crandall and Mrs. E. E. Clark.

The advisory board is very much in favor of purchasing the Ingram property, though as yet they have arrived at no definite conclusion.

AUXILIARY MEETING.

The Ladies Will Meet To-Morrow Morning and Appoint Finance Committee.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the World's Fair commission will meet at 1 o'clock, sharp, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at the Commercial club rooms. The ladies desire a large attendance.

The chief object of the meeting is to decide about raising funds for furnishing the Pettis county room in the Missouri building at the World's Fair. The matter is being thoroughly discussed, and should be acted upon quickly. Here is an opportunity for the people of Sedalia to advertise themselves if they so wish.

A finance committee will be appointed to-morrow and an effort made to arrive at a definite conclusion concerning the matter.

Y. M. C. A. DAY.

The Association in Sedalia Making Unusual Preparation to Celebrate Its Anniversary.

On next Sunday, September 11th, the Y. M. C. A. in Sedalia will have some of the most interesting and highly enjoyable meetings in its history. That day will be its fifth anniversary, and it will be a day of rejoicing. From humble beginnings the association has grown to great proportions. The Y. M. C. A. quarters will now compare favorably with any in the country. They are furnished elegantly, are large and roomy, well supplied with choice literature, have a splendid gymnasium and extensive bath rooms attached. It is for these things that the association proposes to return thanks. Many speakers will be present from abroad, and there will be an niversary meetings in eight churches at 3 p. m. There will be a great mass meeting for men only at the Congregational church. The address will be made by Mr. T. S. McPheeters, of St. Louis, and the music will be in charge of Professor Chance and the male quartette.

At the same hour in the Broadway Presbyterian church there will be a ladies' meeting which will be addressed by Mr. Harry Curtis, of St. Joseph.

Mr. George G. Sudzuki, of Japan, will address the boys' meeting at 2 o'clock p. m.

Among those from a distance who will be present are T. S. McPheeters, Geo. T. Coxhead and F. C. Child, St. Louis; H. M. Beardsley and Wm. Boyd, Kansas City; and R. D. Duncan and Harry Curtis, St. Joseph.

A list of the churches and speakers will appear next Saturday.

A MUSICAL PRODIGY.

Miss Lucia Hoppe Displays Wonderful Talent and Cultivation.

Sedalia has a real musical prodigy in one of the sweetest young girls of Missouri. It is Miss Lucia Hoppe, daughter of Mr. Henry A. Hoppe. She is not yet thirteen years of age, and 'plays like a German professor.'

Miss Hoppe is a student at Visitation convent, St. Louis, and is at home for the vacation, which ends this week. A peculiar fact is that the sister who gives Miss Hoppe musical instruction was a pupil of Miss Hoppe's mother, who was an accomplished pianist. Her father was also a fine piano performer, having received his musical instruction in Germany.

Miss Hoppe plays the most difficult music from Handel, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, etc., and executes with wonderful correctness and ease. Her time is true, and what shows as much as any other one thing is her wonderful memory. Her expression and interpretation are far beyond her years, and are as remarkable as her elocution, which is really marvellous.

Miss Hoppe is destined to become a great performer. She is a very intelligent young lady, unspoiled, easy and very beautiful. She is taking the full English course at the convent, and is entering her last year in these studies. The convent has never had a graduate in music, but hopes to have Miss Hoppe graduate before she leaves. Mr. Hoppe has promised to send his daughter to Germany to finish in music if she so desires.

PUTCHER IS OUT.

The Position of City Clerk Was Filled at a Special Meeting of the City Council To-day.

Frederick Patcher, who has held the position of city clerk since the election last spring, sent in his resignation yesterday and at a meeting of the council at 12 o'clock this morning it was promptly accepted.

The called session was rapped to order by Bell Hutchinson, acting mayor. There were four applicants, viz: Edward Hough, Capt. T. C. Holland, W. S. Ferguson, J. M. West, and George Cummings.

Upon the third ballot Edward Hough was declared elected. It will be remembered that he was an applicant for the position last spring.

The job is a good one and brings $75 per month.

KNOCKED FROM A BRIDGE.

An Old Man Killed on the Main Line by a Freight Train This Morning.

This morning as the second section of east bound freight train No. 128, was entering upon the west end of bridge No. 47, just east of Warrensburg, an old man, dressed in laboring clothes, was struck with terrific force and killed. His body was knocked from the bridge into the stream below.

Trainmen at Warrensburg were notified and, accompanied by Dr. Anderson, they went to the spot and succeeded in recovering the body from the water.

Died.

At the residence of his parents, 1217 Kentucky street, Earl E. C. Nelson, aged 8 years, 9 months and 7 days.

Funeral will take place from the family residence at 11 a. m. to-morrow, September 8th. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

PROF. W. A. RAWLES RESIGNS.

His Successor Appointed at the School Board Meeting Last Night—Text Book Trouble.

At a meeting of the school board in the office of Superintendent A. J. Smith last night the resignation of Prof. W. A. Rawles, principal of the high school, was accepted and Prof. G. W. Horton, of Beloit, Kas., appointed to fill the place.

The departure of Prof. Rawles, while not wholly unexpected, is regretted exceedingly by the many friends who have learned to know and like him during his residence in Sedalia. He has held the position of principal of the Broadway high school for the past four years and throughout that time has ever proved himself to be a refined gentleman and a popular teacher.

Prof. Rawles graduated at the Indiana university, at Bloomington, Indiana, and came to Sedalia from Vincennes, where for two years he was principal of the high school of that city. He is a young man of much practical experience, of a superior education and has an exalted professional ideal which seeks to make perfect men and women, not mere pedants, of his pupils. From Sedalia he goes to St. Louis where he has been tendered an assistant professorship in the high schools of that city. His new field of labor is a much more extensive one and his securing it is a high compliment to his worth. Prof. Rawles goes from our city with the sincerest wishes of his many friends for his complete success in St. Louis.

His successor, Prof. G. W. Horton, recently principal of the high schools of Beloit, Kas., comes to Sedalia highly recommended as a of the evening the genial and happy Ed. was presented with the handsomest meerschau pipe the writer ever saw. It is elaborately carved and ornamented and will be preserved as one of the owner's most priceless jewels.

CARELESS CHILDREN.

Their Playing with Fire Caused the Loss of Two Barnes with Their Contents.

Both fire companies were called to Eleventh and Kentucky streets yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the discovery of fire in a barn belonging to J. P. Lane, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. The barn was destroyed together with a wood house and work house. Damage about $400 with an insurance of $100 on the barn.

Immediately across the alley was the barn of Mrs. M. S. Cotton which caught fire from the Lane barn and was destroyed. It contained several household effects. The total loss in this case is about $500. There was $250 insurance on the household goods.

The fire companies were unable to do anything from the fact that there was no fire plug in the near vicinity.

The fire is supposed to have been started accidentally by some children.

Soldier Boys.

Lieut. Robert Tuff, in charge of 40 infantrymen from Jefferson Barracks, passed through the city yesterday afternoon, en route to Fort Meade, near Denver.

teacher, a scholar and a gentleman.

The board has every reason to believe that in him it has found a worthy successor of Prof. Rawles.

Aside from the regular routine work, a communication from D. C. Heath & Co., text-book publishers of Chicago, came up for consideration. The great and wonderful school book law of the state will doubtless be furnished a precedent on a particular question in a few days. Some interesting developments can be expected.

A Rival of Nancy Hanks.

The usual monotony of the out going trains was broken this morning by a bareheaded young man trying to beat Nancy Hank's record by catching the north bound "Katy" train.

He had gotten off to get a lunch and did not discover that his train had pulled out until it was about two blocks away. From the latest heard from him, it is thought he is still in the rear doing his best to catch it.

A Handsome Present.

A few days ago "Elder" E. R. Marvin had a birthday. Now, a birthday with "Elder" is no ordinary day, and when he considered the fact that he reached the happy age of 41 years without a hair missing, he decided to invite his friends. "Elder" for several years has been quite Teutonic in tastes, and of course a large number of the Turnvereins were present. At the close

IKE'S GHOST.

The Old Crap Den on Main Street Suddenly Deserted by Superstitious Negroes.

Ever since the fiendish murder of Ike Palmer by the desperado, Chas. Banks, at the dirty old crap den run by Jim Pyles at 305 West Main street, the negro gamblers have reinforced themselves with an extra number of rabbit feet and voodoo charms. They stood the strain pretty well and the passer by peering through the broken windows could see the blacks industriously plying their old vocation.

Day before yesterday, however, the story goes that there was a terrible commotion, as one Senegambian was getting ready to tickle the "Kitty," the sepulchral voice of the dead Ike Palmer was heard to say, "I'll bet you five to ten." There was a rush and a rumpus. The "Kitty" was left to take care of itself and the place deserted. To-day the door is nailed up and a "for rent" stares you in the face. The gamblers have moved to less suggestive quarters on Kentucky street.

To be Painted.

Painters were busy moving their ladders and scaffolds to the East Sedalia engine house this morning, preparatory to giving it a coat of paint. Fire company No. 1 say they will not look at the down town boys when they get fixed up.

CIRCULATION.

There are more Sedalia people regular readers of the EVENING DEMOCRAT than any other paper.

Pettis is a democratic county, and therefore every man on the local ticket will be elected if democrats do their duty.

The Australian voting system worked splendidly in Arkansas. It gave a free ballot, a fair count, and a big democratic victory.

The colored troops were "in it" at New Orleans last night. Dixon, the negro pugilist, whipped Skelly, a Caucasian, in eight rounds.

MARSHAL DE LONG should have a larger force of police at his command. It is too much to expect the few men now on duty to police a town the size of Sedalia.

THERE are a great many cities in worse sanitary condition than Sedalia. That is no reason, however, why Sedalia should not be put in better condition than it is at present.

THE people of Sedalia must not lose sight of the importance of securing the north and south railroad now while it can be built. To postpone matters may possibly lose the road forever.

SEDALIA needs several new enterprises, but she needs the north and south railroad worse than anything else just now. It means a large immediate increase in value of property and volume of trade, and ultimately the capital of the state.

It is pretty generally conceded that this country will have to face a cholera epidemic next summer, even if it escapes such a visitation this fall. The only safety for the community is to insist that the city be thoroughly cleaned and kept clean until the danger is over.

THE people of the United States are not to be deceived by Harrison's proposition for a non-partisan commission of federal officials to manage elections. All the world remembers the "non-partisan electoral commission" which gave to Mr. Hayes the office to which Samuel J. Tilden had been honestly and fairly elected, and by its unfair and corrupt decision brought even the federal supreme court into disrepute. No, Mr. Harrison, the people of the various states and communities are perfectly competent to manage elections, count the votes and thus choose the officials who are to make and administer the laws. No federal machine is needed, and it is demanded only by those who are conscious that their policy and their methods are at variance with the popular will.

BLAINE's letter on the campaign, coming just after Harrison's letter of acceptance, utterly ignores the issue of federal control of elections made so prominent both in the president's letter and in his recommendations to congress. This attitude of Blaine emphasizes the differences between the two factions of the republican party. Blaine has never favored force as a means to retain control of the country, and for this reason, with all of his acknowledged ability and popularity, he was not deemed a fit candidate by the plutocratic machine that controls Harrison and dominated the national republican convention. If the "Plumed Knight" had desired to administer a slap in the face to Little Ben, he could not have accomplished it more neatly than he did.

THE "Warner democrats," such a large crop of which were promised a few months ago, seem to be very difficult to find. There may be a few mugwumps, whose only title to the name of democrat was a vote for Cleveland in 1888, who will vote for Warner this year, but they are few and far between and will not by any means off-set the gain the democracy receives through the major's brass band campaign.

CARNEGIE will be good natured, says the Kansas City Times, if he submits gracefully to the thrust which his friend Benjamin inflicted. "I greatly regret that all employers of labor are not just and considerate and that capital sometimes takes too large a share of the profits." However the statement is so universally true that Carnegie may appropriate only 5 per cent. of it.

EASTERN capitalists are willing to put money in the north and south railroad provided the people along the line, and best acquainted with the situation, are willing to show some little faith in the enterprise themselves. The line will be worth more to Sedalia every year than the entire subscription of stock asked for by the company.

AN exchange has a lengthy article on the "moral view" of the New Orleans prize fights. It will strike the average reader that there is no "moral view" of the affair at all. It is immoral throughout, but it divides interest with the political campaign all the same, and the average American citizen likes to read all about it.

It is a significant fact, says an exchange, that an unusually large number of negroes from Tennessee and Kentucky are being given employment in the state of Indiana. Colonization may be used in lieu of blocks of five, and the highly moral party that will employ one will not hesitate in employing the other.

AN exchange, in referring to the recent letter of acceptance, says Harrison was talking through his hat. It would have been more accurate to have said "through his grandfather's hat." But for the name, Ben Harrison would never have been heard of even in Indiana politics.

THE speeches being made by Senator Vest are attracting the attention of the whole country. The Detroit Free Press says: "Senator Vest is said to be making the campaign of his life. His matured thought and finished eloquence are a delight and inspiration."

THE Western Kansas man who is laughing himself to death, says the Kansas City Star, probably heard some republican politician say that the foreigner pays the tariff tax.

THE New York World thinks Harrison's letter of acceptance sounds like a stump speech. Yes, and a very poor stump speech at that.

A SHIP load of rags shipped from Europe was landed at New York the other day without having gone through any sort of disinfecting process. It will be fortunate if cholera does not follow as a result of this carelessness.

REV. SAM SMALL was shot and dangerously wounded by some cowardly scoundrel who fired into his room at Vincennes, Indiana, last night.

A DROP in the mercury from 90 to 38 degrees in 48 hours, as has just occurred in Austria, is pretty good for an old worn out country, and almost equals some of the sudden changes in the wild and woolly west.

THE Sedalia democratic club was well attended last night and much enthusiasm was manifested. The club is going to duplicate in the coming contest the good work it accomplished in the late city campaign.

A MAN WITH A GRAVEYARD.

He Owns it, Bones, Stones and all, by Right of Purchase.

From the Kansas City Star.

The most curious thing about the town of Sweet Springs is the circumstance of a man owning a graveyard. Years ago a man named Herring owned a farm in the south part of town and allowed the people to bury their dead in a little plot on the place. As long as he lived graves were dug and people were buried on his farm. After his death a mysterious, unfeeling thing called "the estate," took charge of things. Then it was that people learned that there had never been any cemetery association formed, no deed of the cemetery plot made, and that "the estate" owned the whole business. As the town grew more doctors came and the old cemetery could not hold all the people that died. So a large new one was laid out a mile on the other side of town. Some of the bodies were removed, but many had no friends living and were left in the old ground. "The estate" put the old graveyard up at auction and an enterprising citizen bought it, bones, tombstones and all. He is not a vicious, warlike man, neither is he a doctor and it is not easy to see what he can want of the place, unless with something of the instinct of a shrewd plunger on "change he is holding for resurrection day, anticipating a great rise in bones. For present profit he turns his horses and hogs into the enclosure to graze and they keep the grass well nipped down so that only thistles and weeds grow up. Some of the tombstones have fallen. Others are leaning and it seems like a desolate place with the chickens clucking and scratching around. If Gray could see the place he might write an elegy, although the surroundings would come nearer prompting a philippic.

THE SECOND FIGHT.

The Negro Dixon Remains Boss of the Bantams.

AMATEUR SKELLY SOON SQUELCHED.

It Takes Dixon Eight Rounds to Dispelate Those Iridescent Dreams Which Erstwhile Filled the Brooklyn Boy's Bosom.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—The fight last night in the Olympic club arena, the second of the high priced attractions, was a contest between white and black in which public sentiment was nearly all in favor of the Caucasian and the public betting nearly all on the side of the African. Dixon upheld the confidence reposed in him, winning in the eighth round.

Vice-President Sport led the procession of little fighters into the ring at 9:05. He was closely followed by Dixon, who was first in his corner. The colored champion was followed by Tom O'Rourke, James Dougherty, J. J. Kelly and Jack Haylin, who acted as seconds. A. J. Bradley was announced as bottle holder. Young Skelly came a short while after and received a tremendous ovation. The Brooklyn amateur was seconded by Jimmie Carroll, Joe Choyinski and John Robinson, with Johnny Griffin, the featherweight, as timekeeper. Skelly was the first to make friendly overtures, and, going to his opponent, gave him a hearty shake of the hand.

A general parley was held in the center of the ring, during which the referee gave his instructions to the fighters and their seconds. The gloves were quickly adjusted and Capt. William Barrett, who was in command, announced to the press men that back heeling and the pivot blow would be barred in this contest. Everything being in readiness, the men crossed to the center of the ring, where a hand shake commenced the battle.

Round 1—Cautious sparring. Skelly looked an inch taller than his adversary. Both men led for the head and came to a clinch. Skelly anxious to be the aggressor. Pretty sparring was indulged in. The Brooklyn boy backed away from a vicious left hander, landed a heavy right hander on his opponent's neck and followed it up. Dixon was cautious and put a straight left on his opponent's head without return. Dixon was forced to his corner, where he clinched to avoid punishment. As the gong sounded both men led without much damage to either and they were sent from a clinch to their seats.

Round 2—The men boxed cautiously for an opening. Skelly was still the aggressor. Dixon attempted to land right and left, and missing, received a punch in the stomach with a right. The colored boy landed a good left hand swing on his opponent's breast, but received a stinging right of the ear. A moment later Dixon was the aggressor and he landed two heavy punches on his opponent's head. His opponent clinched him and delivered a heavy punch on the colored boy's heart. The fighting was fast and furious and Dixon appeared to be getting the better of the exchanges. As the men went to their corners Skelly did not look so well.

Round 3—Skelly was the aggressor, and stepping in received a heavy left which floored him. Dixon now forced his opponent and proving too strong for his opponent and likewise too clever, the latter slipped away. Both men landed heavy rights and Dixon was turned around from the force of his shoulder. Dixon landed a heavy right on the jaw which nearly sent his opponent down, though by a clever duck and clinch the latter saved himself for the time being. Dixon was doing all the aggressive work now, and he showed very clever work. Dixon landed a right and the gong sounded. Dixon now appeared to be a sure winner.

Round 4—The men stepped up briskly and came to a clinch. Dixon landed a heavy left hand swing though he got a terrible right on the ear. He was much stronger than his opponent, however, and the manner in which he offered battle showed his confidence in himself. He landed a heavy left hand swing on his opponent's ribs and clinched to save himself. Dixon received a heavy right on the neck, though his opponent was growing weak. In a fearful exchange of blows Dixon landed two terrible punches on Skelly with both hands on head and body. The battle so far was all one way and the white boy looked as if he could not last through another round.

Round 5—Dixon commenced this round by an attempt to land a left. His effort was futile, however, for Skelly avoiding neatly came to an awkward clinch, in which Dixon's generalship was greatly admired. After an exchange of blows both men's heads came together. Dixon followed up his opponent closely and the latter did not seem so anxious to fight. The colored boy landed a heavy right and left and would have knocked out his man but for a clinch. Skelly looked beaten and was punched to the floor twice. The sound of the gong barely saved him, for he was showing signs of terrible punishment. As he sat in his corner he looked limp and beaten.

Round 6—Dixon stepped up to his man, knowing how weak the latter was and landed a light left on the head. The men boxed carefully and came to a clinch from an attempt of Dixon to land on the head. Dixon forced his man into a corner, where he delivered a heavy right and left hander and it was astonishing how Skelly stood the punishment. He was gone, however, and in a heavy exchange he was beaten to the ground with terrible right and left hand swings.

Murder on a Train.
TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 7.—A. W. Harris and Harrison Lowe, both from the Indian territory, became acquainted in Kansas City yesterday. Among other purchases by Lowe in that city was a revolver. Last night the two started for home. On the train near Bonner Springs Lowe shot Harris in the breast fatally. Lowe jumped off and made his way here, where he was arrested. Harris died in Christ's hospital.

AFTER APPOINTMENTS.

Republican Masses Dissatisfied
With Their Leaders.

From the Republic.

News of the progress of the campaign at the democratic state headquarters is of the most encouraging nature from every section of the state. A lack of harmony and want of enthusiasm is said to prevail generally among republicans and Maj. Warner's meetings are reported as tame affairs, but slimly attended. This is attributed to a disgust for Mr. Harrison; a soreness at the treatment accorded Mr. Filley and a prevalent opinion that Major Warner and his backers are only making a fight to place them in favor with Harrison, should he be elected and get control of the federal patronage in the state. Proof is not wanting, it is said, to establish the fact that Major Warner had to have assurances of a fat appointment under the administration before he would consent to take the nomination for governor. Hundreds of republicans are said to regard his campaign as nothing more than a side show or by-play in which the wily Major and his co-conspirators are accused of indifference to the welfare of the party in the state and only want Harrison to regard them as leaders. This explanation makes the treatment accorded the "ole man" and his thousands of followers easily understood. In fact Major Warner, R. C. Kerens and all the members of the republican state executive committee, with one or two exceptions, are said at heart to be indifferent as to how many votes are polled for the republican ticket, so that they can get control of the federal patronage. These statements are materially strengthened by the declaration of Major Warner's silk stocking supporters here in the city, that they would prefer defeat without Filley to victory with him.

It has been a matter of frequent comment among republicans who have the welfare of the party at heart, that Messrs. Warner and Kerens should go out of their way to heap insult upon Filleyites when every vote possible was supposed to be wanted.

The Good Time at Cole Camp.

The G. A. R. people of Cole Camp and the surrounding country are having a big reunion, commencing to-day. The weather is perfect, an enjoyable programme has been arranged and the attendants will be addressed by well known speakers. The good things to eat will be served in old-time, appetizing army style and everybody made to feel that they are welcome. The last day will conclude with a sham battle. Quite a number will doubtless attend from Sedalia.

A Bridal Trunk.

A bride and groom passed through the city yesterday enroute from Hamilton, Ohio, to Bowling Green, Mo. Their trunk was covered with wide white ribbon, which had been tacked onto the same by friends of the groom at Hamilton. The parties had also written some remarks on the ribbon, and every baggage-man who handled the trunk added something to the writing, and in some cases more ribbon was attached. It is unnecessary to add that the trunk attracted considerable attention while at the depot.—Hannibal Journal, 6th.

KENT-BURR.

Happy Wedding of Two Well-Known Young Sedalia People this Morning.

The wedding of Lieut. Geo. W. Burr, U. S. A., and Miss Lydia R. Kent took place this morning at 11:30 at the home of the bride's mother, on West Third street. Rev. Stevenson, of the Broadway Presbyterian church, solemnized the wedding in the parlor, which was prettily decorated in smilax and ivy. The ring service was used. Directly after the ceremony the party sat down to an elegant luncheon, and Mr. and Mrs. Burr left on the noon train for St. Louis. They will be absent about a week, when they will return to Sedalia and make preparations for removal to their new home in Mississippi.

Mrs. Burr has lived here all her life and is loved by all who know her.

Lieut. Burr is well known in this city, having lived here as a boy and afterwards as a young man. Having obtained an appointment to West Point, he graduated, as a lieutenant, with honors, at that institute four years ago.

He is now instructor in mathematics and military tactics in the military school at Starkville, Miss. Only the relatives and immediate friends of the family were present. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kent were present from St. Louis.

Released To-day.

J. W. Hicks, Wm. Lewis and John Williams were released from jail to-day. They were confined for trespassing.

Took Him to Fulton.

The following parties were licensed to marry to-day:

Isaac Marshall, of Sedalia, to Martha Rhodes, of Lincolnville.
Benj. W. Harned, of Sedalia, to Carrie Lee, of Beaman.

Ready for Work.

Lupe's elevator on the Pacific tracks was fired up this morning and is now ready to receive grain. It is a great accommodation to the farmers and will doubtless be much used. It has a capacity of about 49,000 bushels.

Sent to Tipton.

Mrs. Martha Ritter, of Nevada, came in from the south this morning. She is trying to get to her relatives in Kentucky. Marshal DeLong gave her a ticket to Tipton and sent her on her way thankful for so much aid.

A Strange Pet.

A Morning Marriage.

At 8 o'clock this morning Mr. Joseph B. Knaus, the popular young business man with Guenther Bros., and Miss Mary Klink were married at the Sacred Heart Catholic church by Rev. Father B. Dickman. The attendants were Deputy County Recorder J. E. Imhauser and Miss Lulu Klink, a sister of the bride.

A Fruit of Protection.

Another industry that has been practically created by the McKinley bill is the making of pearl buttons. Few articles coming to us from abroad were so distinctly the product of starvation wages.—President Harrison's Letter of Acceptance.

Commenting on the above the St. Louis Chronicle, an independent paper, says that in Vienna, the center of the industry before the passage of the McKinley bill, workmen earned from $2.75 to $4 per week, using foot-power lathes and working in the slow methods of their grandfathers. Since the McKinley bill passed the industry has been transferred to American penitentiaries, where steam power is used, where the work is rapidly performed and where the labor cost is from $2.55 to $2.70 per week per man employed. And sixty per cent of the pearl button makers employed in Europe prior to June, 1890, are now in America looking for work in competition with the convicts, or in unskilled lines.

This having been brought about it is mete that we wear out our marrow bones in thanksgiving for the special providence commonly known as the protecting wing of the republican party.

Weaknesses of the Conventional Play.

From Truth.

Jerome K. Jerome, in his only good book, "Stageland," describes the weak points and absurdities of the conventional play. But there are lots of things he left unsaid. The "aside" has always been a sore point with students of the drama, and there is not, apparently, much chance of making it less ridiculous. A remark distinctly heard at the top of the gallery, but supposed to be uttered inaudible to a person not two feet from the speaker, must possess curious acoustic properties.

Then there is the "filled" drinking vessel on the stage. When very young, I was often lost in wonder because the liquid contents of these vessels never spilled, although the goblets were waved about in the most reckless manner. I have never yet seen the most artistic actors pay the slightest attention to this detail, and it has more than once spoiled the effect of a whole scene for me. Take, too, the absurd manner of bringing on variety "turns" wholly unconnected with the plot of the piece. I am not disposed to criticize avowed burlesques for this, because nobody expects anything approaching sequence in them, but in productions claiming to be consistent throughout—comedy operas, for instance—it is not fair to be asked to believe that a dancer, dressed in a low-cut bodice and short skirts, thinks nothing of appearing in the "market place" with no hat, and dancing shaking a tambourine, and then disappearing in that kind of costume down a public street, R. L. E. Such things are entertaining, perhaps, but, considered in connection with their adaptability, they superinduce a sense of languor.
